RESORT MANAGED AS A NATURAL RESERVE

The resort has long been committed to environmental conservation and sustainability. In 2013, it was the first European Tour Destination to receive the GEO Certificate from the Golf Environment Organization. In 2020, it received the IAGTO Sustainability Award for Nature Protection in recognition of excellence in environmental and social responsibility.

The maintenance and upkeep of the resort is akin to that of a natural reserve, with resident biologist overseeing its native fauna and flora. This differs to the methodology underpinning most golf courses, in line with policies established in the European Green Deal and the EU biodiversity strategy 2020-2030.
